

Assignment: Write a movie review of YOUR film (the film we are watching tomorrow!).

This is a formal assignment that you are completing individually.

- this is why if you are finished with your film, you are NOT sitting by your peers

It isn't just a sentence or two – it is not the one/two sentence Rotten Tomatoes review you see on the Rotten Tomatoes page:

It is the full review on the reviewer's page.

Below is an excerpt from a how-to, and there are links below as well to help you. As you can see, apparently movie reviewing a common assessment in college (that is why the excerpt and link are from essay writing pages). Here are some words of guidance:

The main purpose of a movie review is to inform the reader about the film and its ideas. Seems simple, right? Reporting all events that happen and stating one's opinion about them is a common mistake that many students make. While movie review allows writers to express their opinions about some film or documentary, there is also the need for the unbiased and objective approach. An ideal review combines both.

The review determines whether someone will want to see the movie. Even if the professor (or teacher) assigned a specific title and film to review, one should act like this is the perfect opportunity to introduce the cinematography work to their lecturer. Always assume they haven't seen it before. As a result, it becomes easier to analyze events that happened on the screen.

Film review should be detailed enough to provide assistance in making an honest decision i.e. whether the reader wants to see it or if they'd like it. Why is this type of paper a common school assignment? Lecturers want to get more insight into a student's critical thinking skills and the ability to report event (one or more of them) in a manner that others understand easily.

In addition, they want to assess the way you analyze plot and characters. After all, movie reviews also involve the analysis of events that happened in a documentary or "regular" film. Reviews test writing and vocabulary skills, adapting to different genres and events they portray, and your capacity to sum up some major work and report it in a cohesive, logical, and interesting manner.

Additional links for what to include: Edusson PapersOwl EliteEssayWriters

Due: Electronic copy due at end of class*