

Hello,

I hope you have all been enjoying the snow and have been watching lots of movies!

Speaking of, you did need to watch one film to begin your Textual Analysis. With hope I will see you tomorrow – and if we do, that means that the film watching is due by tonight. PLEASE watch your film and indicate that you have here.

Most of you have completed the film-watching assignment – thank you. And a note about that... on the survey where you indicated your viewing, I asked what your first thoughts were. If by chance you didn't like the film – watch another from the list. You will be spending a lot of time analyzing a scene from the film and the film as a whole, watch one you like (as we seem to have a lot of extra time on our hands!).

Here's our tentative calendar:
