

Watch & Tell

The hip, new, high school equivalent of Show & Tell:
Watch a movie a week & share what you're watching.

Purpose: watch films & share things

To Do: Beginning this week, Watch* & Tell. Include the following on a single page (a Word doc, Google Slides, etc.). When done, email document or link to Ms. Bacon.

1. Film title & Director
2. Inciting incident
3. Scene where...
 - choose a scene, name/explain it
 - list 3ish things you notice about the scene
4. The character...
 - choose and name a character
 - explain 3ish things about their contribution to the film
5. Interesting/fun fact about the director and/or the making of the film.
6. Final note – a review, a comment, a suggestion, etc.

Remember – here are some suggestions (share your own here too!).

- And at the end of each week, your one-pagers will be posted as well for more movie ideas.

Example here (ps - this film is available on HBO Go, or HBO Now or something HBO...).

- You can do something like the example, or something more (or less? if possible) artistic/visually appealing than the example. Just be sure to keep it to one page.

*you can instead share a show (cable, internet, network...) you watched, but please don't repeat the same show in the weeks ahead
