FIRST: Watch it once without doing anything but watching.

NEXT: Watch it again and take notes on what you see/hear:

What is in the scene?

Where are the characters in the shot – where are they in comparison to each other?

Why?

What's in the room? On the walls?

What vocab terms do you see being used?

- camera movement, shots, angles, shot types... DESCRIBE

- does this add meaning? How?

Are any technical innovations you found in your research in your scene?

What do you notice about the lighting in the scene? What does it do for the scene?

Characters?

Other than dialog, what sounds do you hear? Listen carefully.

How does the scene fit into the film as a whole?

Time permitting, watch it again, this time without sound – do you notice anything new? What?
